

ABHISHEK

UI/UX Designer/Front End Developer

Objective

I am looking for a job in an organization or design firm in the field of User Experience (UX) and/or User Interface Design (UI). It also transforms UI designs into pixel-perfect responsive HTML5/CSS3. There, I call myself his PSD2HTML developer. I would like to work with a software or web design company to teach application design principles and strategies for continuous development.

My goal is to create better interfaces and experiences for users to use her web, applications and technologies more easily. Simplify communication barriers by bridging the gap between end-users, designers and developers. Able to work effectively in teams and alone.

I have demonstrated my ability to lead small teams and mentor other employees. I take pride in being able to use my knowledge and initiative to deliver high quality results within tight deadlines. I enjoy challenges and look for opportunities to expand and develop my skills.

Some call what I do user experience design some call it web design some consider me a front end developer some consider me a UI/UX designer. I understand what you are doing as a combination of all this. Ultimately, I don't think it matters which label you want to use.

What matters is the output of my work, which always meets user, business and technical requirements and leads to a perfect product.
